SHARECROPPERS' CYCLE OF POVERTY

By the time sharecroppers had shared their crops and paid their debts, they rarely had any money left. A sharecropper became tied to one plantation, having to work until his debts were paid.

6 To pay debt, sharecropper promises landowner a greater share of next year's crop.

2 Sharecropper buys food and clothing on credit from landowner's store.

1 Sharecropper receives land and seed. In exchange, he promises landowner half the crop.

4 Sharecropper gives landowner crop to sell. Sharecropper gets half the earnings, minus his debt for the year.

5 When settling up, landowner says that sharecropper owes more than he has earned.

3 Sharecropper plants and harvests crop.

- terrorized African Americans and supporters of Radical Reconstruction in the South
- Became known for white supremacy

The negroes of the South are better than all," said the parliamentary War-torn. "This is what the South, a well-known Democratic organ of Tennessee, says, in large capitals, on the subject. "Let the Union hold the slaves, for the Federalists signed to split every leading Whig paper in the country, and send him to no enemy for all time to come. The negro may have and shall be broken at any and all costs. The Democrats have determined to withhold all support from free traders. Let this fact be known."

THE ABOVE IS WHAT IS THE THE ABOVE TRUTH
 "The above is what is the above truth" "The above is what is the above truth" "The above is what is the above truth"
